AGRICULTURAL, &C. South Carolina—Report, on Her Agri-

sentural Condition and Prospects.

Mr. Theo. C. Peters, of the United States Agricultural Department, has made a report to the Commissioner on the Agricultural condition of the South. The following is the se Mos of the report which treats of this State Pleing well aithated for the cultivation of rise and cutton, and having a surplus of labor. this dure has devoted its agriculture to the cultivation of these two merchantable products, sources. In proportion to area she has but ittle more poor soil than North Carolina, while in her rice lands and sea islands she has much that is superior.

The census shows that there was grown as reported, 353,412 bales; how much of this was see island and how much upland does not appear, while the quantity planted is in excess of last year. It is safe to estimate that not over one-hand of the land, planted in 1859 and 1860 is now being worked, while through the region known as "Sherman's track," the same eauses which compelled the abandonment or fields after they had been planted and partially worked in North Caroline has produced like results, only to a larger extent here. Some have been compelled to abandon entirely and at once, while others have discharged their hands and teams, and worked with their families in order to make some corn and a little cotton to save them from fature starvation. While much relief has con to many of these people, but a small portion have been to lieved from the impossibility of getting con-vayance to find the suffering or to send relief when found. If the history of the past and present pre sissippi is ever fully written, an amount of humemorificing (will be disclosed that has bed no save my life."

The wife fell on her knees, and attempted most propitous, there will yet be, until another planting and another harvest, untold misery indictariation. H. R. A. D. (I. A. H. H. D.) inad left him did he entertain a hope of remain-the sick could be fed, and have substituted roof ind baths cofficeed from the fields and ed some sixty miles to a relative, who had loaned him a cow then in milk, and there won joy in that family when the cow came. They milk restored their vigor. The man also brought a small parcel; of seed corn, and the patch of land was prepared for a future oran.

This family consisted of father, mother, and five children. To the question, "Why don't you work?" "O, sir, tell us where we can get even a peck of corn or a pound of pork, and we will most gladly work, but everybody is like we are." And this is the condition of Corn .- More has been planted this year than last. In many instances but little cotton is planted, and the energies of the farm devoted to corn. Yet they are all so badly in debt that an effort is made to grow all the cotton possible. In the census the corn crop is put down at 15,065,600 bushels. It will fall far below that this year. I doubt if it reaches half. To furnish any permanent relief it should be friends and customers, that we have decisions Wheat .- Only 1,285,631 bushels are reported by the census for this State. For the lack of seed and labor, but a small breadth was sown last year; it is boing harvested in good coudi. tion and yields well, but so pressing are the wants of the people that but a little will be left for seed. In many instances the green wheat and tye have been out up and fed to the mules to enable the farmers to work their growing Cotton and corn crops lla mit 2401111

Oats But a small prop, only 936,974 bushelf, were made, as reported by the census; it is, therefore, of small consequence, though an effort has been made this year to sow considerable, but the searcity of the seed and the poverty of the people have prevented anything like the usual breadth being put in,

Rice.—The census reported 119,100,528 ounds of hulled or merchantable rice. The great destruction of the expensive fixtures on the rice plantations by the war has nearly broken up the cultivation; added to this is the want of capital and of labor, and the cultivation of a plantation is the exception rather than the rule, nor will the vast see fields be again cultivated till a new system of labor is established; resort must be had to the Chinese. If proper efforts are made I have no doubt abundant labor of that kind could be procured at San Francisco. And the Chinaman once domiciled on these plantations, there will be no further want for labor, and cheap labor, too, for there is scarceman can live so cheap as on the rice planta-tions of the South.

Tobacco.—This crop has been considered of small consequence in this State, the census only reporting 104,912 pounds Whether there be really difficulties of soil or climate, or both, in the way of successful and profitable cultivation, I did not learn. TAs a part of the State is on the same range of the Blue Ridge with Virginia and North Carolina, there seems no good reasons why is cannot be grown as
